L.P. Hartley's 'The Go-Between' takes place in the long hot Summer of 1900, and tells of how young Leo, staying with Marcus, a school friend, at the aristocratic Brandham Hall, begins to act as a messenger between Ted, the farmer, and Marian, Marcus's beautiful young sister. Leo narrates the events in 1952, as a

Plot Summary | LitCharts

As an exploration of the social class and hierarchy in relation to love and sex, The Go-Between has elements in common with the works of D.H. Lawrence (such as Lady Chatterley ' s Lover) and Thomas Hardy. Hartley ' s book resembles a bildungsroman—a novel that specifically chronicles someone ' s journey from youth to
